

Snap Drape Pivots to Produce Face Masks That Help Businesses Safely Reopen

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., - June 5, 2020 - Snap Drape, a CFS Brands textile company, retooled its manufacturing facility to produce hundreds of thousands of non-medical, reusable face masks to help mitigate the threat of COVID-19.

As the restaurant industry ventured into the unknown overnight, dining areas were shut down to flatten the curve. Snap Drape responded to the need by repurposing available resources in support of communities and businesses nationwide.

Snap Drape product manager Tammy Brazeal commented on the quick pivot to meet market needs, “It was exciting to bring to life an innovative use of a standard material for a completely different application within our industry.”

“The foodservice industry requires a reliable, local source for personal protective equipment, and CFS Brands is adjusting quickly to produce products that enable our customers to safely re-open their businesses,” said Sean Oberer, VP of Engineering, CFS Brands.
